

University of Rochester

ED452C Instructional Strategies for Inclusive Classrooms

Session 6
6/4/2026

Elyse Schirmer

Agenda

1. Check-In
2. Discussion Posts
3. Effective Practices Continued (Nisa)
4. Caring and Responsive Classroom Communities
5. Take Away

Check-In

One Word + Why

Everyone drops one word in the chat and explains why.

For example: What's your current energy level?

Discussion Posts

https://docs.google.com/document/d/1PCtCr_JmnDswT_TMBpTAbl2FCMlnKnTUAIc-QAJtaDFs/edit?usp=sharing

Spaces with Caring and Responsive Classroom Communities

Social

Physical

Ideological

Cultural

Emotional

Social

- Values attachments and developmental relationships
- Recognizes the importance of students' needs to feel safe, cared for, and valued
- Balances structure and flexibility to meet individual and group needs
- Creates opportunities to participate and contribute
- Has goals, structure, and is designed to help students develop skills and readiness to learn
- Allows for practice of important life skills

Physical

- Makes good use of space including places for calming, e.g., calming corners, sensory rooms, and/or hallways)
- Is clean, orderly, inviting
- Feels safe and nurturing
- Has adjustable lighting and reasonable calming noise level
- Is furnished and decorated appropriately for the age group of students assigned to the classroom

Ideological

- Communicates a cohesive school philosophy of caring
- Supports developmentally appropriate practice
- Provides opportunities for students to participate successfully in activities
- Involves students, families, and staff members in decision making
- Encourages relationship building activities
- Creates a learning organization

Cultural

- Develops culturally responsive staff
- Accepts and celebrates cultural differences and worldviews
- Is sensitive to diverse social identities
- Supports and encourages family involvement
- Allows for culturally sensitive staff-student interactions

Emotional

- Takes into consideration specific effects of trauma
- Facilitates an atmosphere of safety and acceptance
- Encourages warm and responsive relationships
- Requires emotionally competent staff
- Allows for development of co-regulation and self-regulation skills
- Contributes to students' learning

Take Away

What is something that you are taking away from today's class?